5. You work with school age children in a summer recreational/educational program. A new child, Nathan, joins the program. He is 8 years old and dresses in winter clothing despite being summer. He has a very strong body odor. His hair is not combed and is unkempt. He seems to be a happy child but doesn't join in many activities. You notice him stuffing his pockets after the free breakfast. After 4 weeks of sporadic attendance, you don't see him for 3 weeks. You've not met Nathan's parents, but can obtain info about them (address, ph#'s, etc) from his registration papers.
   Based on the information provided and what you have learned through this presentation, briefly describe how you would address this situation.
