

ABSTRACTS

Attendees are welcome to present a paper, poster, or both if on different topics. Please submit separate abstracts if presenting both a paper and poster. All oral presentations will be plenary talks and 15–20 minutes in length depending on the volume of submissions. Posters will be on display for an extended period. Topics currently being developed for the symposium are listed below, but do not feel limited by the categories.

- Biological Control
- Chemical Control/New Chemistry
- Ecology/Behavior
- Extension Programs
- Insecticide Resistance
- Integrated Pest Management
- Landscape Ecology/Host Interactions
- Molecular Biology
- Movement/Dispersal

The deadline for submission is September 30, 2012. Abstracts will be collated and posted on the website prior to the conference, unless a specific request is made to withhold the abstract.

Please send your presentation information electronically via email to Jeff Gore (jgore@drec.msstate.edu) using the guidelines below. In the subject line of the email include "ILS Poster" if you are submitting a poster or "ILS Paper" if you are submitting an oral presentation. Jeff is also the program chair for the symposium, so please contact him if you have any questions regarding the overall program structure or if you would like to volunteer to help organize or moderate a session.

Abstracts from the last conference at Asilomar were published in aggregate in the Journal of Insect Science. Depending on interest, we could pursue a similar outlet again this time. See: <http://www.insectscience.org/8.49/>
