FOOD EVOLUTION Film Screening & Discussion Panel

Join the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences for this one-night-only film screening in the main theater at The Loft Cinema. The film will be followed by a panel discussion with Dr. Donato Romagnolo and Dr. Melanie Hingle from our Department of Nutritional Sciences and Dr. Ken Feldmann from our School of Plant Sciences.

>>>How do we decide how to decide?

Amidst a brutally polarized debate marked by passion, suspicion and confusion, FOOD EVOLUTION, by Academy Award®-nominated director Scott Hamilton Kennedy, explores the controversy surrounding GMOs and food. Traveling from Hawaiian papaya groves, to banana farms in Uganda to the cornfields of Iowa, the film, narrated by esteemed science communicator Neil deGrasse Tyson, wrestles with the emotions and the science driving one of the most heated arguments of our time.

Discussion Panel

Dr. Melanie Hingle, University of Arizona College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

Dr. Hingle is an Assistant Professor of Nutritional Sciences and Public Health. For more than 15 years she has worked at the intersection of nutrition sciences and public health, with a focus on health promotion and chronic disease prevention in children and families. Dr. Hingle is a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist with training and experience in health promotion and behavioral sciences, dietary intake assessment, and the design and conduct of studies focused on health behavior change and diabetes prevention.

Dr. Kenneth Feldmann, University of Arizona College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

Dr. Feldmann is a Professor of Plant Sciences. His research interests include plant functional genomics and biotechnology, and he teaches biotechnology. Prior to joining...
UA, Dr. Feldmann was employed at several plant biotechnology companies.

Dr. Donato Romagnolo, University of Arizona College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

Dr. Romagnolo is Professor in the Department of Nutritional Sciences and the Department of Cancer Biology. He is co-editor of Bioactive Compounds and Cancer and promotes research that deals with the role of bioactive food components as epigenetic regulators of expression of genes involved in cancer and inflammation.

The Graduate College encourages students to prepare for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) through formal or informal instruction and study, as appropriate to the
For those students seeking professional assistance, one option to consider is a workshop led by Michael Flynn, Executive Director of Grad Pros Educational Consulting. Mr. Flynn has facilitated GRE workshops on the UA campus since 2000 and has received consistently positive feedback.

There are three components to this workshop.

1. Practice tests: The course begins with a GRE practice test administered under simulated test conditions. Scores will be analyzed to determine areas of strength and weakness for each participant. One additional practice test will be taken in class, and another will be taken at home to familiarize students with the GRE's computer format.

2. Group instruction: Test-taking strategies for the quantitative, verbal and writing sections of the GRE will be covered along with time management, stress/anxiety and other topics relating to test performance. Timed sections will be administered to assess individual strengths/weaknesses and to improve pacing.

3. Extra help from the instructor: The instructor, Michael Flynn, is Executive Director of Grad Pros Educational Consulting and former admissions committee member at Harvard University and the UCSD School of Medicine. Extra help will be available during and after the workshop.

Dates

The Fall 2017 workshop is designed to be completed over 4 days, as noted below. As new material is presented in each class, students need to commit to attending all four days of the workshop. The workshop is held on the UA campus.

- Saturday, September 23, 9am - 5pm
- Sunday, September 24, 9am - 1pm
- Saturday, October 21, 9am - 5pm
- Sunday, October 22, 9am - 1pm

Cost

The cost of the workshop is $300, which includes all instruction, a GRE practice book and extra help both during and after the workshop.

Registration

To request a seat in the workshop, please contact Michael Flynn by email: gradpros@gmail.com (link sends e-mail). In addition to your full name and phone number, please include the following information about your affiliation with UA and your plans to take the GRE:

- Current UA students: indicate your year in school (junior, senior, graduate student, etc) and expected GRE test date. Note: you may be asked to show your UA Cat Card at the first workshop.
- UA alumni: indicate your graduation date and expected GRE test date.
- UA staff: indicate your title, department, and expected GRE test date.
- Community members: indicate your expected GRE test date.

Class size is limited and registration is prioritized in the order indicated above. Please consider the interests of others and only request a seat in the workshop if you can fully commit to attending all four scheduled class meetings and plan to take the GRE soon after completing the workshop (within a month or so).
Additional Information
Questions may be directed to Stephanie Adamson in the UA Graduate College or to Mr. Flynn directly at the email provided above.
Please refer to the UA Testing Office for general information about the GRE.
The UA Think Tank also provides graduate test preparation workshops for the GRE, as well as the GMAT and LSAT.

Course Announcements

The Green Guides are UA students’ one-stop-shop for all things green on campus and in Tucson!

The Guides include:
