Curriculum Requirements
for the Ph.D. Minor in Agricultural and Resource Economics

1. Core Courses

Two of the following courses are required.

- AREC 504* Production Economics (Spring) 3 units
- AREC 513* Consumption Economics and Price Analysis (Fall) 3 units
- ECON 548 Into to Statistical Methods in Economics (Fall) 4 units
- ECON 549 Applied Econometric Analysis (Spring) 3 units

* One of the two required core courses should be from AREC 504 or AREC 513.

2. Specialty Courses

Six 6 units from AREC courses (these units may also come from unused core courses):

- AREC 512 Economic Policy in Developing Countries (Fall) 3 units
- AREC 516 Agricultural Development (Spring) 3 units
- AREC 550 Financial Management for Agribusiness (Spring) 3 units
- AREC 559 Adv. Applied Econometrics (AREC 548/549 are pre-reqs, Fall) 4 units
- AREC 575 Economic Evaluation of Water & Environmental Policy (Fall) 3 units

3. A Total of 12 Units in AREC Courses

4. Limitations

A Graduate Student may receive a Ph.D. Minor or a Master Degree in Agricultural and Resource Economics but NOT both for the same course work.