

A Short History of the Magazine

First issue - 1949

ARIZONA LAND & PEOPLE

magazine began in spring, 1949 as Progressive Agriculture in Arizona, an 8-page, black-and-white quarterly publication. Throughout its 53-year history, its goal has always been to show how the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences serves the state of Arizona—its land and its people. Here are sample covers from five decades, beginning with the inaugural issue.
